In addition, we use the services of the Content Delivery Network (hereinafter "CDN") of Cloud-flare on our websites for the purpose of faster retrieval of our online offer. When you visit the websites, a library from the "CDN" is temporarily stored on your end device in order to avoid reloading the content. In the process, your IP address is transmitted to the provider. We have concluded an order processing agreement with cloudflare in accordance with Art. 28 GDPR after processing of the data only takes place via servers located in the EU. The legal basis for the processing is Art. 6 para. 1 p. 1 lit. f) GDPR. With the use of "Cloud-flare", we pursue the legitimate interest of faster retrievability as well as a more effective and improved presentation of our online offer.

Further information on data protection and the storage period for "Cloudflare" can be found at: <https://www.cloudflare.com/de-de/privacypolicy/> (section 7 "additional safeguards").

You may object to the processing. Your right to object exists for reasons arising from your particular situation. You can send us your objection via the contact details mentioned in the section "Responsible provider".

Open Street Map

Our websites use the "OpenStreetMap" service of the OpenStreetMap Foundation (OSMF) to display maps or map sections and thus enable you to conveniently use the map function on the websites. By visiting the websites, OpenStreetMap receives information about the use of our website, including your IP address, which may be collected by cookies and forwarded to the servers of OpenStreetMap and stored. Further information on the purpose and scope of processing by "OpenStreetMap" as well as the storage location and duration can be found at https://wiki.osmfoundation.org/wiki/Privacy_Policy. The legal basis for the processing is Art. 6 para. 1 p. 1 lit. f) GDPR. The processing serves to make our web offer more attractive and to provide you with additional service.

You can object to the processing. Your right to object exists for reasons arising from your particular situation. By changing the settings in your Internet browser, you can object to processing by cookies by disabling or restricting cookies. Cookies that have already been stored can be deleted at any time in the browser settings. You can also prevent the use of cookies by opening the browser you are using in "private mode".

Google Analytics 4.0

In order to be able to optimally adapt our websites and apps to user interests, we use "Google Analytics 4.0", a web analysis service from "Google" (Google Ireland Ltd., Gordon House, Barrow Street, Dublin 4, Ireland and Google, LLC 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway Mountain View, CA 94043, USA). The "Google Analytics 4" analysis service uses technologies such as "cookies", "tracking pixels", "device fingerprinting" and programming interfaces to track specific user behavior on websites and in apps. Information stored on users' devices is also processed in the process. With the help of tracking pixels embedded in websites and cookies stored on users' end devices, Google processes the information generated about the use of our website by users' end devices and access data across all end devices for the purpose of statistical analysis - e.g., that a website or several specific web pages have been accessed or that a newsletter registration has taken place.

To analyze usage behavior, we use an application programming interface, the Firebase Software Development Kit (SDK), provided by Google to access end-device information such as the advertising ID (IDFA from Apple and GAID from Google) of the end device used and to enable statistical analysis of the use of the app. Google assigns a randomly generated user ID to which the respective usage behavior is assigned.

Using machine learning methods, Google automatically records user behavior and other events during interaction with our website/app. In addition, a cross-platform analysis of user behavior takes place on websites and apps that use Google Analytics 4 technologies. This makes it possible to record, measure and compare user behavior in different environments. For example, the user's scroll events are recorded automatically to enable a better understanding of how websites and apps are used. Different user IDs from different cookies or end device resources are used for this purpose. We are then provided with anonymized statistics on the use of the various platforms, compiled according to selected criteria.

With the help of "Google Analytics 4", target groups are automatically created for certain cookies or mobile advertising IDs, which are later used for renewed individualized advertising targeting. Target group criteria that can be considered are, for example: Users who have viewed products but not added them to a shopping cart or added them to a shopping cart but not completed the purchase, users who have purchased certain items. In this case, a target group includes at least 100 users. With the help of the "Google Ads" tool, interest-based advertisements can then be displayed in search results. In this way, users of websites can be recognized on other websites within the Google advertising network (in Google search or on "YouTube", so-called "Google Ads" or on other websites) and presented with tailored advertisements based on the defined target group criteria.

For these purposes, it can also be determined whether different end devices belong to you or your household.

Access data includes, in particular, the IP address, browser information, the website previously visited and the date and time of the server request. "Google Analytics 4" automatically shortens the IP address by the last octet in order to make it more difficult to relate it to a person. According to Google, the IP addresses are shortened within member states of the European Union. Due to the "Google Analytics" tool used, the user's browser automatically establishes a direct connection with Google's server. If users are registered with a Google service, Google can assign the visit to the user account and create and evaluate user profiles across applications.

Storage period: The storage period is 14 months.

Third-country transfer: Consent for Google Analytics also includes consent to the possible transfer of data to the USA. The USA is classified by the European Court of Justice as a country without an adequate level of data protection and without appropriate guarantees according to EU standards. In particular, there is a risk that your personal data may be processed by U.S. authorities for control and monitoring purposes, possibly without the possibility of a legal remedy to prevent access to data or to establish the illegality of the access. In addition, it cannot be guaranteed that your data subject rights can be fully implemented and supervisory authorities in the USA will take appropriate remedial action. The use of Google Analytics requires the third country transfer. If you do not wish to consent to the third country transfer, you must deselect Google Analytics.

The legal basis for the processing is your consent according to Art. 6 para. 1 s. 1 point a) GDPR. "Google" also processes the data in part in the USA. So-called "standard contractual clauses" have been concluded with Google to ensure compliance with an appropriate level of data protection. Upon request, we will provide you with a copy of the standard contractual clauses. Your data in connection with "Google Analytics 4.0" will be deleted after fourteen months at the latest. Further information on data protection at "Google" can be found at: <http://www.google.de/intl/de/policies/privacy>.

Revocation of your consents to the processing [and third-party transfer] is possible at any time by pushing back the slider in the "Advanced Settings" of the Consent Tool for the respective third-party provider. The lawfulness of the processing remains unaffected until you exercise the revocation.

Google Tag Manager

We use the "Google Tag Manager" from "Google" (Google Ireland Ltd., Gordon House, Barrow Street, Dublin 4, Ireland und Google, LLC 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway Mountain View, CA 94043, USA) on our websites. Google Tag Manager" is a solution with which website tags can be managed via an interface.

On the one hand, an http request is sent to Google when the websites with Google Tag Manager are called up. This transmits end device information and personal data such as your IP address and information about your browser settings to Google. We use the Google Tag Manager for the purpose of facilitating electronic communication by transferring information to third-party providers via programming interfaces, among other things. In the Google Tag Manager, the respective tracking codes of the third-party providers are implemented without us having to make any elaborate changes to the source code of the website ourselves. Instead, the integration is done by a container that places a so-called "placeholder" code in the source code. In addition, the Google Tag Manager allows to exchange the data parameters of the users in a certain order, especially by ordering and systematising the data packets. In some cases, your data is also transmitted to the USA. So-called "standard contractual clauses" have been concluded with Google to ensure compliance with an appropriate level of data protection. We will provide you with a copy of the standard contractual clauses on request. The legal basis for the processing is Art. 6 para. 1 sentence 1 lit. f) GDPR. Our legitimate interests in the processing lie in the facilitation and implementation of electronic communication through the identification of communication end points, control options for exchanging data elements in a defined sequence, and the identification of transmission errors. The Google Tag Manager does not initiate any data storage. Further information on data protection at Google can be found at: <http://www.google.de/intl/de/policies/privacy>.

You may object to the processing insofar as the processing is based on the legal basis of Art. 6 para. 1 p. 1 lit. f) GDPR. Your right to object exists for reasons arising from your particular situation. You can send us your objection via the contact details listed in the "Controller" section.

On the other hand, third-party tags such as tracking codes or counting pixels are installed on our website by the Google Tag Manager. The tool triggers other tags, which in turn collect your data; we will inform you about this separately in this privacy policy. The Google Tag Manager itself does not evaluate the end device information and personal data of the users collected by the tags. Rather, your data is forwarded to the respective third-party service for the purposes stated in our consent management tool. We have aligned Google Tag Manager with our consent management tool so that the triggering of certain third-party services in Google Tag Manager is dependent on your selection in our consent management tool, so that only those third-party tags trigger data processing for which you have given consent. The use of the Google Tag Manager is included in the consent for the respective third-party service. The legal basis for the processing is your consent according to Art. 6 para. 1 p. 1 lit. a) GDPR. Your data will also be transmitted to the USA in some cases. So-called "standard contractual clauses" have been concluded with Google to ensure compliance with an appropriate level of data protection. We will provide you with a copy of the standard contractual clauses on request. [Alternative] The legal basis for the transfer to the USA is your consent in accordance with Art. 49 Para. 1 S. 1 lit. a) GDPR. The storage period of your data can be found in the following descriptions of the individual third-party services. You can find further information on data protection at "Google" under:

<http://www.google.de/intl/de/policies/privacy>.

Revocation of your consents to the processing [and third country transfer] is possible at any time by pushing back the slider in the "Advanced Settings" of the Consent Tool [insert link] for the respective third party provider. The lawfulness of the processing remains unaffected until you exercise the revocation.
